Consumer Risks: The Nestlé Group operates in a competitive environment and other corporations may apply significant resources to change areas of focus or to increase investment in marketing or in new products which could cause the Nestlé Group's sales or margins to decrease in these markets; or if the Nestlé Group is unable to adjust to new distribution channels and developments in e-commerce, the Nestlé Group may be disadvantaged with certain consumers.

Operational Risks: The Nestlé Group is dependent on the sustainable supply of a number of raw materials, packaging material and services/utilities. Sourcing raw materials globally exposes the Nestlé Group to price fluctuations and supply uncertainties which are subject to factors such as commodity market price volatility, currency fluctuations, changes in governmental agricultural programmes, harvest and weather conditions including longer-term changes in weather patterns, water shortages, crop disease, crop yields, alternative crops and by-product values. Price changes for raw materials and commodities may adversely impact the Nestlé Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Legal and Regulatory Risks: Changes in, or failure to comply with, the laws and regulations applicable to the Nestlé Group's products or its business could adversely impact the Nestlé Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.
